Mystery Man in Murder Grilled

SURPRISE KILLING ENIGMA

Suspect Silent On Slaying In Front of Fourth Street Store

GRUNT IS REPLY TO FORMAL DEATH CHARGE

Widow and Babes of Victim Present as Inquest Is Held

While police grilled him in an effort to assign a motive for the crime, B. J. Marcos, 35, today maintained absolute silence regarding the alleged shooting by him at 6:25 p. m. Saturday on East Fourth street, of Jose Ayouayo, 25, Corona.

While scores of persons looked on, Marcos, the police allege, emerged from a sports goods store, drew a newly purchased revolver, and shot the Mexican, a total stranger, through the heart.

Then, calmly pocketing the smoking revolver, Marcos is said to have walked down the street, only to be arrested a moment later by Officers Orin Monger and Claude Rogers.

Despite repeated interrogation, at the inquest this morning, later at Marcos' arraignment, and finally in the jail where the defendant was lodged under charges of first degree murder, the motive for the crime remained a complete mystery.

Neither man had ever seen the other, it was said, and there had been no quarrel.

Preliminary hearing in the case was set for December 6 at 2 p. m. Bail was refused.

"Marcos, you are charged with murder. Do you understand what that means? This warrant says that you shot and killed a man."

HUMAN SEED—A little while ago, when jobs were scarce, we shut down immigration, to keep the few jobs for those already here. Now that jobs have become plenty, we are talking about letting down the bars, to bring in immigrants to fill them.

Suppose we forget both considerations! Whether an immigrant takes somebody's job, and thereby lowers the standard of living for them both, or whether the lack of immigrants keeps some jobs unfilled and raises wages in the others, to the detriment of profits, is of only temporary importance. Some immediate measures to meet immediate situations are doubtless justified. But as a permanent policy only one consideration is important. What sort of ancestor, or what sort of American grandchild, will this man make?

Nothing else counts. We are sowing the seed whose harvest shall be the future American race. Natural economic laws will take care of temporary situations, or can be aided to do so by proper legislation. Any mistakes we may make in this respect are soon corrected or survived. But the seed is the whole question.

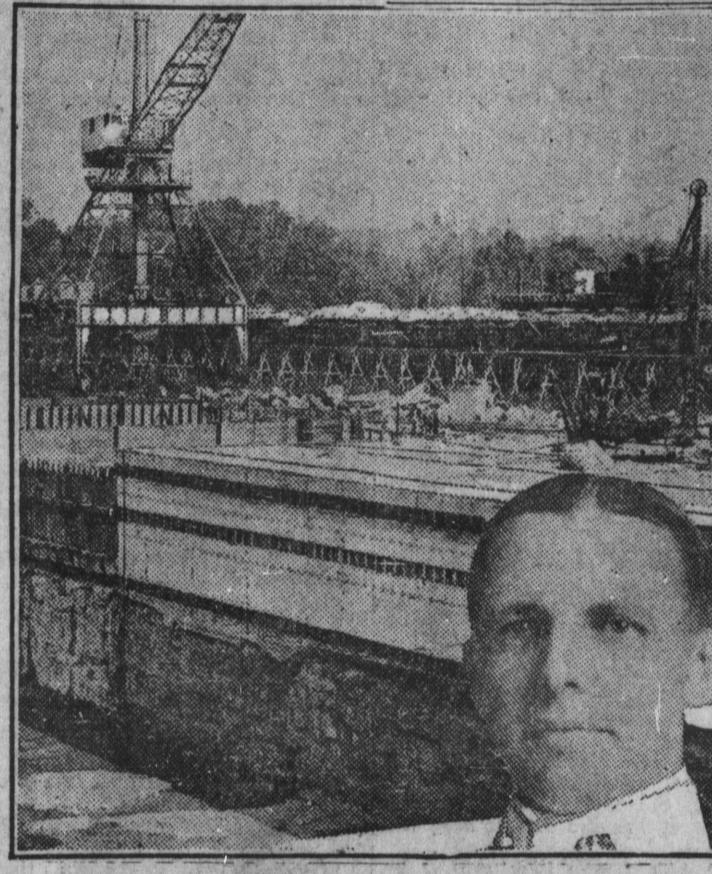

As the seed is, so shall the harvest be. These immigrants are going to be co-grandchildren of our grandchildren. Any who must not be must not be admitted. That means exclusion of races physically and biologically dissimilar.

Any who will improve the stock should be welcomed, as fast as they will come, even if some of them choose times for coming that make it hard sledding, both for them and for us.

Any who will debase the stock should be left out, no matter how much it would help our profits to import their unskilled but cheap strength.

That is the whole question. There is going to be a race of men in America, a hundred years from

FIVE PERISH WHEN TRAIN WRECKS AUTO

Entire Family is Wiped Out in Crash; Flying Debris Kills Tot Near Scene.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 27.—Five persons were killed this afternoon when the Prairie State Limited on the Chicago and Alton railroad struck an automobile at a grade crossing near here.

In the automobile were Mr. and Mrs. Percy Wilcox and two children of Woodside, seven miles south of here. All were killed instantly. The flying debris following the collision struck a child on the sidewalk and inflicted injuries that resulted in its death a few minutes later at the hospital.

Neither man had ever seen the other, it was said, and there had been no quarrel.

Preliminary hearing in the case was set for December 6 at 2 p. m. Bail was refused.

Prisoner Grunts

It was Justice J. B. Cox speaking at Marcos's arraignment on charges of first degree murder. In reply, the prisoner with bent head, grunted an unintelligible syllable.

The judge left the bench, walked down, faced Marcos, and in a more emphatic voice, read the complaint, charging malicious killing.

The alleged murderer's only reply was a grunt, emitted without raising his eyes.

"I refuse to pay a lawyer more than $25 to defend me," this man, who was beginning the fight for his life, said finally. "I can write him a check for that amount."

The organizer answered the mayor's order to police to treat the Klan as if they were "disorderly houses and gangsters" with the announcement that E. D. Smith, Buffalo, grand dragon for the state, would come here to help in forming chapters.

Simultaneously the Klan became a storm center in New York. While rabble officials and others denounced it, some ministers defended the organization from the pulpit in Sunday services.

Haywood, in an interview, answering criticism declared that the Klan, standing against birth control, feminism and crime and for the prohibition law in America, would eventually become world wide.

Asks As To Law

"If I had no attorney at my preliminary examination," he queried, "would that preclude the possibility of securing one for my trial?"

He was informed that the court would appoint counsel for the trial.

Jose Ayouayo met his death from a gunshot wound inflicted by Marcos, with homicidal intention, a coroner's jury decided this morning.

Witnesses at the inquest agreed in their story, that Marcos had entered Livesey's sports goods store, purchased a blue .38-caliber revolver, loaded it, and gone into the street, to shoot the first man he came upon.

The dead man and his cousin, Ramon Puarro, were walking west

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—The board of directors of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana late today called a special meeting of stockholders to meet at Whiting, Ind., December 27, to vote on an increase in capital stock from $140,000,000 to $250,000,000.

If the stockholders authorize the increase, the board of directors proposes to declare a stock dividend of 100 per cent payable to all stockholders of record at that time.

Any who will improve the stock should be welcomed, as fast as they will come, even if some of them choose times for coming that make it hard sledding, both for them and for us.

CLARA LOSES MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL

Hammer Girl Hears Prison Sentence; Lawyer Plans Appeal

(United Press Leased Wire)
LOS ANGELES, Nov. 27.—Clara Phillips today was sentenced to serve from ten years to life in San Quentin penitentiary for beating out the life of Alberta Meadows with a hammer.

Superior Judge McCormick, sitting for Judge Houser, pronounced the sentence, after denying the motion for a new trial which was made by Deputy Public Defender Scott.

Scott represented Mrs. Phillips in the absence of Defense Attorney Herrington who left the courtroom before the case was called. Herrington was reported ill.

"I can see no reason why a new trial should be granted in the case," said Judge McCormick, and then asked Mrs. Phillips if she knew of any reason why she should not be sentenced immediately.

Mrs. Phillips, dressed in black and appearing almost completely indifferent to the proceedings, merely shook her head negatively, and said nothing.

Scott asked for a ten day stay of execution to prepare an appeal, and it was granted.

The principals in the trial including Armond Phillips, husband of the convicted woman, and her two sisters were in court. But all arrived perfunctorily, expecting a postponement.

When Mrs. Phillips was brought into court, looking bored and weary, Judge McCormick announced he would hear the case.

The latest tremors shook the northern coast of Chile for miles. No loss of life was reported.

Carrizal and Bajo bore the brunt of the wave, which swept over the smelting company's branch property in the two towns. Vessels in the harbors were dashed against water front structures or swept ashore.

The session was over in a few minutes and Mrs. Phillips, convicted of second degree murder, and sentenced to prison, was returned to her cell.

NEED NEW COMPLAINT IN CAR THEFT CASE

Because Justice William French of Fullerton failed to affix his signature to a commitment of Arthur Williams, held to answer in Fullerton on charges of embezzling an automobile belonging to E. J. Marks, Williams was freed today, when he was arraigned before Superior Judge R. Y. Williams, and it was necessary to swear to a new complaint.

Deputy District Attorney C. N. Moyle swore to the new complaint. Williams will be arraigned before Justice J. B. Cox this time, it was stated.

Sullivan, who claims he is the owner of several placer claims in the reserve, said he would file the suit merely to establish his rights in the Teapot Dome.

SHIP BILL CLASH ON IN HOUSE

Opponents of Measure Win First Test Vote On Amendments

FAVOR COMPETITIVE BIDDING ON VESSELS

Administration Forces Confident of Success In Struggle

(United Press Leased Wire)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—Administration forces in the house were forced to accept a compromise when the first test of strength on amendments to the ship subsidy bill came in the house today.

An amendment by Representative Graham, Illinois, Republican, providing that the shipping board must offer for competitive bidding any vessel to be sold under the bill, was adopted.

Graham warned that Republican leaders must accept other amendments if the measure is to be made "defensible" to Republicans of the middle west.

Republican leaders who claim there has been a decided shift of sentiment their way during the past few days, professed confidence that the bill would weather the gale and come to a final vote Wednesday without material change in its essential features and substantially as President Harding wants it. Subsidy opponents were just as confident they would be able to shoot the bill to pieces.

Suggest Amendments.

Indications are the bitterest fights will come on amendments to be proposed, which would:

1—Eliminate from the benefits of the subsidy the Standard Oil company, United States Steel corporation, United Fruit company, the Gulf Refining-Sinclair Oil company and other big corporations which carry their products in their own vessels.

2—Greatly increase the interest rate which shipping lines would pay on money loaned them. The figure in the bill is two per cent.

3—Establish more fixed terms under which the 1,400 ships owned by the government will be offered for sale. As the bill stands, it is claimed the ships could be virtually given away.

4—Specify that the government vessels cannot be grabbed up by one or two powerful financial combinations.

Demand Accounting.

5—Making the shipping board come back to congress every year with a complete accounting and ask for appropriations to continue the subsidy. The bill now authorizes a ten-year appropriation, claimed necessary by subsidy drafters to enable the making of ten-year contracts.

6—Give farmers and producers generally throughout the country a freight rebate of twenty-five percent on goods shipped from interior points for shipping on vessels receiving subsidy aid. This amendment will be backed by the western farm bloc and shows promise of carrying.

Consideration of amendments will run through Wednesday and a final vote on the subsidy taken that night.

Ambassador Geddes of Great Britain placed a communication before Secretary of State Hughes denying that the British government was involved in any attempt to influence the decision of congress on the ship subsidy measure.

"30" BULLETIN

Appraised by Donald Anderson look atop Santiago Peak, that a fire was raging at the head of Trabuco canyon, five miles east of what is known as the Trabuco, Victor Walker, local sporting goods dealer, today began recruiting a force of a dozen firefighters to be rushed to the scene in automobiles. Forest Ranger H. I. Snider, of Corona, was expected to reach here at 3 p. m. to accompany the men to the Trabuco. Fire Warden Ed Atkinson was already on the way, it was said. The extent of the fire was not known.

BARN, GARAGE TRASH BURNED IN 3 FIRES

Members of the fire department responded to a bell alarm from residents in the vicinity of a vacant lot at 993 North Sycamore street, at 11 a.m. today. A trash fire, out of control, had ignited a fence there and threatened houses nearby. No damage resulted.

Last night the department responded to a call from Mrs. M. E. Morrison, 1239 West Third street. A barn in the rear of the property, caught fire in some unknown manner, and burned to the ground before the department reached the scene. Prompt work saved other barns nearby. The damage was $85.

Damage amounting to $100 resulted about 7:30 p.m. Saturday, when a garage house, occupied by E. A. Sherman, North Shelton street, caught fire. The structure was damaged to the extent of $15, and other articles, valued at $85, were destroyed.

A kerosene lamp was believed to have been the cause of this fire.

"For the benefit of newcomers to Santa Ana," Fire Chief John Luxembourg said today, "I would call their attention to the fact that the city statute prohibits the burning of trash except between 6 a.m. and 10 a.m. All fires must be out before 10 a.m."

"Strict adherence to these regulations would help the department, and reduces the fire menace at this time, when everything is very dry."

HEIRESS TO ANAHEIM ESTATE FIGHTS BACK IN SUIT OVER NOTE

General denial of charges contained in a cross complaint was filed in superior court today by Marie Ferand, heiress to the estate of General Julian Royer, Anaheim capitalist, in her case against the Anaheim Investment company.

Miss Ferand had sued to collect on a note and to foreclose a mortgage on the Anaheim Investment company. The defendants, in answering, filed a cross-complaint, alleging that Royer donated the note and mortgage to the defendant, and that this procedure was illegal.

All this was denied by Miss Ferand.

SEAL BEACH IN SUIT TO BAR PIPE LINE

Because excavations and work incidental to laying an eight-inch gas main through the streets of Seal Beach, and over a bridge near Anaheim landing, threaten to close the streets and endanger the bridge, according to a complaint the City of Seal Beach today filed suit against the Union Oil company, to enjoin it from laying the pipe.

According to the plaintiffs, the oil company has been laying pipe in the city. It was understood, the complaint alleged, that the company planned to run the pipe over the bridge. This, it was said, would endanger the bridge, and restrain the public from using the highways and bridge.

Family Gathering In Peters Home

Anticipating Thanksgiving by a few days, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Peters of 110 West First street yesterday entertained at a family gathering in honor of the approaching national holiday.

Gathered around the family board were the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Peters, their son Dale Peters of Whittier, with Mrs. Peters and their two small sons, Don and Edwin; their daughters, Mrs. Lena Marsh of Los Angeles and Mrs. A. C. Snodgrass with Mr. Snodgrass and their two little daughters, Evelyn and Jean and Mrs. Sue Spencer, Mrs. Peter's mother. The celebration was arranged for Sunday in order that all might be present as would have been impossible had they waited until Thanksgiving day. Mr. and Mrs. Dale Peters and son came over from Whittier on Saturday and the little lads were interested onlookers at the children's program presented Saturday night at Odd Fellows hall.

Mrs. Barsh plans to leave Wednesday night for San Francisco where she will spend the Thanksgiving week-end with her friends, Mr. and Mrs. J. Munson of the northern city.

Sedgwick Social Club

Sedgwick Social Club held a very interesting meeting yesterday in G. A. R. hall. A delightful luncheon was served at noon and a fine program given at 2 p.m.

Among those taking part were the Rev. Jerome L Parks, pastor of United Brethren church, who eloquently gave a patriotic talk which was greatly enjoyed. Commander Huntington spoke on the early history of the nation and, depicting the hardships of those days of warfare, made it quite plain to his hearers that a deep conviction in the justice of their cause made possible the wondrous success which followed.

Readings were given by Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Huntington, and others. A business meeting followed the program.

IN RIGHT SPIRIT.—It is encouraging to see California's peace officers, including even the police heads in San Francisco, taking the Wright law seriously. They realize that it means what it says, that it has the mandate of the people behind it, and that it is their business to enforce it. They say this will do.

If it is accepted in this fashion, it will have been worth the delay in passing it. Now the responsibility is fixed. If prohibition is not enforced in California, everybody will know who is not enforcing it and why. If policemen are corrupted and still stay on the force, everybody will know who did not discharge or discipline them, and why. And if anybody breaks the law, he will know that he is breaking the law of his own state, enacted by vote of its own people, and that he will receive no sympathy if caught. It is a far sounder civic situation already, even with the law not yet in effect and with no authority for a officer to do anything under it. The law starts in with good auspices and with good prospect of being generally effective. If anywhere it is not, the whole people will know just why, just what to do about it—and to whom.

SCORES HALTED IN HEADLIGHT DRIVE

Persistent attempts of officers to interrogate the prisoner, resulted in the single reply, "I don't know."

"Why did you kill this man?" they asked. "Had you ever seen him before?"

"I Don't Know."

And always came the answer, in a mumbled monotone—"I don't know."

Just once did Marcos break his silence. Then it was to tell officers that he had relatives at Norwalk, and that he had been confined in asylums at Norwalk and in Patton.

He didn't know, he told police, how long he had been living at San Juan Capistrano.

"We didn't talk to Marcos at all," Puarno testified at the inquest. "I didn't see him until after he had fired the shot which killed my cousin."

As Coroner C. D. Brown inquired into the death of Ayuayo, the latter's wife, a young girl, with a babe in her arms, and child clutching her skirts, sat and tearfully listened to the details of the act which at once robbed her of a husband, and the little ones of a father. They lived on Joy street. Coronor, the jury was told.

Immediately after the inquest, District Attorney A. P. Nelson prepared a complaint, charging murderer in the first degree. Officer Moncrief was the complaining witness.

"This was but the first of many such efforts," Nelson said today. "I have informed my men to spare no pains to arrest every motorist who is too careless or negligent to have his lights adjusted."

No basis in fact could be found for a rumor that Marcos had just emerged from the Lyric theater, in which has been shown a film of Jesse James, famous outlaw, and containing a scene similar to that which authorities say occurred on East Fourth street. When the rumor became prevalent, it was thought that perhaps the suspect, excited by the scene in the picture, on Fourth street, near the Lyric theater, Puarno, testified. A shot was fired, Ayuayo clutched his breast over the heart, and murmured, "He hit me."

Cousin Follows Slayer

Marcos, calm throughout the incident, witnesses agreed, pocketed the gun and walked west on Fourth street. Ramon turned and followed him. Ayuayo staggered and fell to the pavement, to die a few moments later.

The dead man's cousin followed the alleged killer until he came upon Officers Orin Moncrief and Claude Rogers.

"That man kill my partner," he told the officers. Both policemen, they testified, started after Marcos. With drawn revolvers, they ordered him to stop. A search revealed a revolver, with one shell exploded, in the right hip pocket of his trousers, Moncrief told the jury.

Persistent attempts of officers to interrogate the prisoner, resulted in the single reply, "I don't know."

BAD CHECK CHARGE HERE IS DISMISSED

Bad check charges against L. Cain, who was scheduled for a preliminary hearing before Justice J. B. Cox at 10 a.m. today, were dismissed, on motion of the district attorney's office.

The defendant was represented by Attorney Morris Cain.

"I should like it known that this man is no relative of mine," the attorney stated emphatically today. "Persistent rumors to the effect that he was a brother, have caused me much concern."

In which a man had purchased a gun, and going into the street, had shot the first man he met, had chosen to do likewise.</

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 27.—El-

This much has been admitted, and they have confided to Cecil
B. DeMille the task of keeping the other details secret. De Mille, in other words, has been made director of the wedding. He would not deny that the ceremony might be performed at Mrs. Untermeyer's beautiful home in River-

With the avowed purpose of seeking legislation to curb the extension of the branch system in California, not less than 150 banks of this state, including a number of Orange county banks, have become members of the California League of Independent Bankers, it was learned here today.

The league was organized at a meeting at Riverside Saturday night, by the election of Howard Whipple, president of the Commercial Bank of Turlock, as president, and E. J. Sanford, cashier of the Ontario National Bank of Ontario, as secretary, and the appointment of an executive committee of fifteen. W. B. Williams, executive committee.

E. B. Trago, of the Nickey Hard-attending physician says that absoprogress and recovery. He advised that friends do not call the of the bell disturbs the patient.

MRS. IDA LIVENSPIRE IS CALLED BY DEATH

Funeral arrangements were completed today for Mrs. Ida Livenspire, 46, wife of I. Livenspire, who died at her home, 832 North Ross street, yesterday, after an illness extending over a period of nearly two years.

Mrs. Livenspire was a native of Wisconsin, but with her husband came to Santa Ana about twelve years ago to make her home. She is survived by her husband, I.
Livenspire, two step-children, Miss Mildred Livenspire of the home and Ralph Livenspire, now in the university at Eugene, Oregon, and one sister, Mrs. Chloe Davy, who has made her home with her sister during the latter part of her long illness.

Funeral services will be conducted by the Rev. F. T. Porter at the Smith and Tuthill chapel tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. Burial will be made in Fairhaven cemetery.

Funeral Notice

Funeral services for Mrs. Lucinda
May Vanscuyt, 84, will be held at Smith and Tuthill chapel, Tuesday, November 28, at 1 p.m., with the Rev. Jerome L. Parks officiating.
Burial at Fairhaven cemetery.

Plan Fight

It is understood that the legislation that will be sought is for the amendment of state banking laws that give the branch bank advantages over the local bank.

Since the two are in competition,
it was pointed out at the Riverside meeting, the branch bank ought to be made to do business under the same rules as those set down in the law for chartered banks.

S. A. STORES TO REMAIN OPEN WED. NIGHT

Saturday night closing hours will be observed by merchants of Santa Ana Wednesday evening, P. S. Lucas, secretary of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association, announced today. The stores will close Thursday, Thanksgiving Day.

The announcement was made as a warning to the public to supply the larder Wednesday afternoon and evening, otherwise some one might have to go hungry on the day of all days when "big eats" are in order.

COSTA MESANS IN 450-ACRE OIL LEASE

With 450 acres signed and a committee appointed to procure more signatures to a community oil lease and empowered to negotiate with a responsible oil company, residents of Costa Mesa today were anticipating action in the near future that will result in a thorough test of that section as to the possibility of developing oil.

The committee was appointed at a meeting of residents held Saturday night in the church at Costa Mesa, with an attendance of 250 persons.

The acreage was signed at the close of the meeting. A committee consisting of N. O. Mellott, W. Rountree and W. W. Middleton was appointed to interview other property owners and to co-operate with M. H. Cotton, of Los Angeles, in negotiating a satisfactory lease to one of the big oil companies.

A lease form prepared and presented in person by A. W. Rutan, of Rutan and Head, Santa Ana law firm, was approved. The lease stipulates 4500 feet as the minimum depth to which a well must be drilled before abandonment. A one-sixth royalty is asked.

It was pointed out at the meeting that if oil is developed it would mean rapid progress of the community and would make the district one of the richest in the country.

The meeting was marked with enthusiasm. Property owners believed that sinking a well to the depth indicated would result in the uncovering of a highly productive oil field.

When adjournment was taken it was understood that another mass meeting would be called within thirty days at which reports would be received on the progress of the activity.

Dr. J. W. Wherry was chairman of the meeting and Rountree officiated as secretary.

SCHOOL HEADS ARE BACK FROM CONFAB

J. A. Cranston, superintendent of city schools, and R. P. Mitchell, county school superintendent, were back at their desks today, following a week's visit in Oakland at the state convention of school superintendents.

Discussion of evening school conditions; the progress of the proposed state study course; improved standards and adjusted salaries for teachers; the projected high school survey; reported progress of the parent-teacher associations; and explanation of trustees' liability with promise of endeavor to amend the law in that respect, were among highlights of the convention, Superintendent Cranston said.

The musical entertainment by high school pupils of the trans-hay city, was a feature of the daily sessions, he said.

STRONG READY TO WITNESS ELKS' SHOW

In anticipation of hearing some clever "take-offs" on local persons and with assurance that the production is going to be high class, hundreds of Santa Anans today were making preparations for being present tonight at Yost's theater for the first presentation of "Ten Thousand Dollars" to be staged tonight, tomorrow and Wednesday nights, under the auspices of Santa Ana Lodge No. 794, B.P.O.E.

Ticket holders were warned today that they should be in their seats by 8:15 p.m., as one of the most laughable stunts of the evening will be staged before the curtain goes up.

Big Success Seen

This is the fourth annual show staged by the local lodge under the direction of C. J. McNaughton, and the success of the previous offerings is assurance that "Ten Thousand Dollars" will be a winner, it was stated.

The seat sale at Parson's drug store today indicated that there will be good houses each night. There are good seats, left, however, and may be reserved at the drug store.

With a cast of sixty persons, special scenic effects, elaborate costuming and bewitching girls, the production was declared to contain everything to make it appealing to theater patrons. The dress rehearsals yesterday forenoon showed plainly that the show will have all the snap and smoothness of professional offerings, it was said.

Says Cast Perfect

According to McNaughton, the play contains one of the funniest stories ever written and the cast, he says, is flawless.

The streets of Santa Ana Saturday night were jammed with a multitude of persons who came downtown to witness the parade by some of the cast. Thirty-five or forty persons, including a bevy of the young women who are to participate, were in the parade. The procession moved east and west on Fourth street and up Broadway to St. Ann's Inn, the hostelry being invaded by the gay bunch. The clowns engaged in funny antics and created much amusement as they passed along the street. The parade was declared a big success and gave an insight into what may be expected when the play is presented.

It was pointed out at the meeting that if oil is developed it would mean rapid progress of the community and would make the district one of the richest in the country.

The meeting was marked with enthusiasm. Property owners believed that sinking a well to the depth indicated would result in the uncovering of a highly productive oil field.

When adjournment was taken it was understood that another mass meeting would be called within thirty days at which reports would be received on the progress of the activity.

Dr. J. W. Wherry was chairman of the meeting and Rountree officiated as secretary.

PRESTO! WEDDING BREAKFAST APPEARS

G. A. Schweiger, manager of St. Ann's Inn, waits for 'em right outside the church.

Frank C. Pistonetti, who hails from Marsailles, France, and his bride, who a few moments before the wedding, stepped out of the First Christian church last Saturday, Rev. F. T. Porter beamed his benediction through the portal.

Perina Pistonetti, sister of the bridegroom, and M. A. Pistonetti, who were attending the couple, brought up the rear, gazing self-consciously at each other.

"Where shall we go for the wedding breakfast?" queried the newly dubbed husband. The best man apparently had fallen down on the job.

That's where Schweiger stepped into the picture. He was walking past when he heard the remark.

"I know just the place," he said. "Wherever led them into St. Ann's Inn. After seeing them safely seated, he dashed out and purchased a wedding cake, decorated him said, "with red hearts and everything."

When the party was about to leave, the best man drew Schweiger aside. Indicating Mrs. Perina Pistonetti, he whispered, "She hasn't said 'yes' yet, but within a few weeks, she and I will be having our wedding breakfast here. You put it on proper."

DON'T FUSS WITH MUSTARD PLASTERS!

Musterole Works Without the Blister—Easier, Quicker

There's no sense in mixing a mess of mustard, flour and water when you can easily relieve pain, soreness or stiffness with a little clean, white Musterole.

Musterole is made of pure oil of mustard and other helpful ingredients, combined in the form of the present white ointment. It takes the place of mustard plasters, and will not blister.

Musterole usually gives prompt relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosty feet, colds of the chest (it may prevent pneumonia), 35c and 65c jars and tubes.

The Only Electric washing machine that is Different

American inventive genius produced the telephone, the incandescent lamp and the vacuum cleaner, but for many generations it neglected the washtub.

The application of electric power to the laundering of clothes marked an important step forward, but it produced no radical change in the method of washing until the invention of the Laun-Dry-Ette seven years ago. The Laun-Dry-Ette at once released the housewife from the bondage of wringer and extra tubs—and thus eliminated all the heavy work of washday.

The Laun-Dry-Ette has made the three-tub-and-wringer method of washing obsolete. For it has no wringer to feed and requires no extra tubs. Yet it not only washes the clothes, rinses them and blues them, all in one tub—but it whirls the entire tubful dry for the line in one minute.

If you want an electric washer that both washes and dries; that needs no extra tubs; that can't smash buttons or fasteners; that saves your strength; that prevents red hands—in short, the most modern and helpful machine you can buy—then you need the Laun-Dry-Ette.

Twilight Wedding
Witnessed by Hosts
Of Admiring Friends

Forest Outing
Enjoyed by Guests
At Smart Dinner-Dance

In the soft light of the setting sun and surrounded by the deeply interested members of the First Methodist congregation as well as scores of friends from other cities, Miss Esther Betts, daughter of the Rev. Will A. Betts and Mrs. Betts of this city, and Lambert J. Baker, of Los Angeles, yesterday afternoon took their nuptial vows at the First M. E. church.

The ceremony, marked by a quiet dignity, was of great interest locally, for despite the fact that Miss Betts had called Santa Ana "home" for so short time, she was nevertheless, a true "daughter of the parish" and her wedding was the event of the year in church circles.

Preceding the ceremony at 4 o'clock, a delightful recital was given with Mrs. H. B. Snow at the organ. "Elsa's Bridal Procession" from Lohengrin was the first number, after which Mrs. Jessie Benson Freeman, a close friend of the bride, sang a group of songs, "Temple Bells" by Amy Woodford-Findlin; "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes," an old English air and "Oh Promise Me" by Reginald De Koven. As the strains of the Bridal March from Lohengrin sounded, the Rev. Dr. Clyde Crist, district superintendent, took his place at the altar, where he was joined by Mr. Baker, accompanied by his best man, L. M. Barker, of Los Angeles.

Miss Betts, entering on her father's arm, wore a modish gown of black chiffon velvet with a small black hat bearing a single green feather ornament. Her flowers were deep pink bride's roses tied with tulle in the same tint. Beautiful pearls encircled her throat, and formed her sole ornament. * * *

Those of Earlier Day

Two charming brides, Mrs. A. E. Chapman and Mrs. Frank Chapman, with two smiling bridegrooms, the senior Mr. Chapman and his stalwart son, received loving congratulations and good wishes at a delightfully planned little wedding dinner in the gray private dining room at James' Thanksgiving chrysanthemums were used in the decorations for an attractive bridge luncheon with which Mrs. Walter Leecraft entertained Saturday at the Hob Nob Tea room in Long Beach, her guests motorizing over from this city for the afternoon.

The popular tea room on Ocean Avenue offered a delightful rendezvous for the party of matrons. The delicious luncheon was followed by an interesting session at bridge in which first prize was made to Mrs. Addie Collins. Mrs. W. H. Hosking of Long Beach scored second high and received a pretty gift while to Mrs. H. T. Duckett was awarded the consolation.

Mrs. Leecraft's guest list included Mrs. George Briggs, Mrs. J. P. Baumgartner, Miss Rosa Boyd, Mrs. E. S. Gilbert, Mrs. Alice Harris, Mrs. W. L. Benson, Mrs. Charles Kendall Jr., Mrs. Robert Atkinson, Mrs. Addie Collins, Mrs. Lee, Mrs. Katherine Edwards, Mrs. Samuel A. Marsden, Mrs. Earl Morrow, Mrs. Howard Timmons, Mrs. Jack Hayden, Mrs. Terry Stephenson, Mrs. J. D. Thomas, Mrs. Charles Riggs, Mrs. Ben Warner of Santa Ana; Mrs. William Conrad Mills, Mrs. W. H. Hosking and Mrs. W. F. Trisk of Long Beach. * * *

Brownings Welcome
Little Daughter

Returning to this city, they joined the other members of the family party at James' where a delicious chicken dinner was served. The table was centered with a crystal basket filled with Cecil Brunner buds and baby's breath while a flaring pink bow adorned the handle. Rosy place cards harmonized with the general color scheme as did the favors, dainty pink baskets bearing a Cecil Brunner bud and filled with almonds. Mrs. A. E. Chapman, the earlier "bride" wore blue Canton crepe.

Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Chapman sr., Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chapman, Miss Marguerite Galbraith and George Chapman. Interest centered in the beautiful wedding cake whose pink and white surface bore the letter C. Mrs. Frank Chapman was given the bride's privilege of cutting it and Mrs. A. E. Chapman distributed the slices. * * *

Of the wedding couple of 1922, Mrs. Chapman is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Champion of West Walnut street, born in this city and educated in the city schools. Mr. Chapman, the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Chapman, was born in Westmoreland, Kansas, coming to Santa Ana with his parents when a child of four. He is a graduate of Santa Ana High School, class of 1918, and is one of the leading young carpenters of the city.

The wedding of the 1897 couple occurred in Louisville, Kansas when on Thanksgiving day of that year, Miss Emma M. Weber became the bride of A. E. Chapman.

This is the biggest little shop you ever saw. Or have you seen it? Well if you haven't you are in debt to yourself and also to the dear ones, and others, to whom you expect to give gifts this holiday time. You know how you would hate to go to an opera and have to take just any seat? Well, isn't it the same with gifts? Wouldn't it be far more satisfactory to make your reservations in advance? It is certainly a fine and glorious feeling to be sitting pretty a week or two before Christmas. Well, anyhow you may buy now, make a deposit, and have your best choice put away. And that is just what a lot of folk have already done, so don't be bashful. And you, ladies, who want tea sets had better send him in right away. They are going, going. Genuine jet, and amber necklaces and novelty ones, too. Mirrors for the mantel or console table. Framed pictures and mottoes at 50¢ and up. Vases and flower bowls, and you can find some very good large shapes at $1.00 and $1.50. The finest oriental and domestic incense, incense burners, perfume lamps, bookends, candlesticks. Come on. Don't make us beg you. Just come and see for yourself. You are welcome to shop. But do it now. 315 W. Fourth. Goff Gift & Art Shop.

In the reception line were Mr. and Mrs. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Freeman, Mrs. Freeman wearing orchid Canton crepe and a corsage of pink sweet peas; Miss Lucille Stanley and Mr. Barker. Guests were present from Riverside, San Bernardino, Los Angeles, Long Beach and other cities.

Following the informal reception, Mr. and Mrs. Baker took their departure for a motor honeymoon trip, later planning to be at home to their many friends in Los Angeles.

It is surprising how carefully every detail of these dresses is worked out. How carefully the styles are designed to bring out women's best lines—and there are styles for slender, medium and stout types.

The materials have been selected with care and adapted to each particular style. They are dresses that have been tailored with extreme care.

Materials are many. Among the silks are canton and satin crepes, charmeuse and novelty crepes.

In the woolens Poiret twill predominates while French serges and tricotine are good.

The colors are the numerous favorites of the season, and all are made in the becoming draped styles favored by highest fashion authorities.

Long Beach Tea Room
Is Rendezvous for Bridge Players

Matrons and maids of the younger social set were today reminiscing pleasantly of the charming afternoon at bridge which they enjoyed late last week with Mrs. Don Andrews as hostess at her pretty West Camille street home.

Yellow blossoms added a cheerful note to the living rooms where six tables were employed for the game. At the close of the afternoon, prizes were awarded to Mrs. H. H. Dale and Miss Marjorie Warner for holding high and second high scores. Mrs. Dale's gift was an exquisitely embroidered luncheon set while a lovely hand-painted cake plate fell to the fortunate lot of Miss Warner.

At the tea hour, the tables were spread with dainty linen luncheon cloths and centered with ornamental baskets of fruit as Mrs. Andrews served a dainty refreshment menu in which the yellow color note was sounded. * * *

Local Tenor Returns from Concert Trip

Following a concert recital presented in Yuma, Arizona, Earl Fraser, local vocalist and pianist, returned Saturday from a three days' trip to the neighboring state.

The recital was presented by a trio of singers. Vivian Strong Hart, coloratura soprano formerly of Seattle but more recently of Los Angeles; Raymond Harmon, lyric tenor of Los Angeles and Mr. Fraser, lyric tenor and pianist of this city. The three have been much in demand in Los Angeles and various cities to the northward during the season, one gratifying feature of their appearance being that they have almost without exception been called upon for a return engagement.

Miss Hart has just had the honor of being selected to take the leading soprano role in an opera to receive its premiere in Los Angeles soon. Mr. Fraser, while taking part in the vocal numbers, also acted as accompanist and solo pianist.

SUCCESSOR OF JERNIGAN TO BE NAMED

Who will step into the official shoes of City Marshal Sam Jernigan, December 1, when the resignation that he is to tender to the city council tonight will become effective?

At least two men were directly interested today in this question. They were Sid Smithwick and Claude C. Rogers, members of the police force, who have made application for appointment to succeed Jernigan, who, on the first Monday in January, will assume his duties as sheriff of Orange county.

It is understood that both men have their following. Members of the council declare there has been no conference on the selection of a man to fill the position of chief of police.

Matter Remains Open.

The matter will remain open until the moment when the councilmen vote to name the local guardians of the peace. The appointee will remain in office from December 1 until at least the April election. Then either he, if he is a candidate, or some other man, will be elected. Later, if a charter is adopted, he may be appointed under its provisions. The latter point will depend on whether the charter is adopted and whether, if adopted, it carries provisions making the chief of police an appointive rather than an elective office. The charter cannot go into effect before August.

It is possible that an ordinance will be presented tonight in preparation for calling an election to select a board of freeholders to frame a charter, in compliance with a petition filed with the council last Monday.

It is hoped that the board will frame a charter and an election can be held in time to present the document to the state legislature at its January session, if voters approve the plan to change from the present legal control of the city by a state law to one that will carry special provisions meeting local conditions.

The ordinance calling the election for the naming of a board of freeholders will be given its first reading tonight, according to M. B. Wellington, attorney, who, as chairman of the civic affairs committee of the Chamber of Commerce, has prepared the document. Given its first reading tonight, it will be passed next Monday night, barring unforeseen delay.

Following adoption of the ordinance a list of freeholders will be placed on the ballot in the usual procedure, that is, by petition. It requires the signatures of only a few voters to accomplish this and no trouble is anticipated in getting the required number in half a day's work by a committee.

URGES WEIGHTS CURBED

It is known here that Talbert is a strong advocate of strict control of truck weights. He was present in Sacramento last spring as a representative of the supervisors of the state in an effort to reduce the load limit in the state from 30,000 to 22,000 pounds, and was present at the legislative committee meeting at which the auto club and trucking representatives made a fight against reduction of the load limit to less than 23,000 pounds. Since then this county has passed an ordinance putting the load limit at 22,000 pounds.

The conference in San Francisco will consider every phase of motor vehicle control, including signalling and speed.

ORANGE

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 27.—Edward F. Redeker, 50 years of age, a mission worker of Chicago, his wife and Miss Mary Doherty, 28, of St. Louis, were under arrest here today charged with disturbing the peace as the result of a horsewhipping Mrs. Redeker gave to her husband and Miss Doherty in a hotel room yesterday.

Redeker and his wife arrived here Saturday night. Mrs. Redeker said her husband requested her to lodge at the home of his parents, who live here, while he went to a hotel.

Ignoring his request, she declared she followed him and after he registered at a hotel, slipped into his room and hid under the bed, armed with a horsewhip.

Later, Mrs. Redeker asserted, her husband returned to the room and in a few minutes Miss Doherty knocked and was admitted. She admitted that she left her hiding, accused Miss Doherty of stealing her husband and applied the whip.

Miss Lillian E. Teeter of Los Angeles has been appointed to the position of assistant to the Rev. Charles B. Dalton, and will enter upon her new duties this week.

Mrs. Mary E. Black of Redondo is a guest at the home of her son, W. Black, 435 East Palmyra avenue.

Mr. Jack Henderson has accepted a position at the Bake Rite Bakery.

Mr. and Mrs. Hannigan Moberly having sold their house at 538 East Palmyra, are moving into their new home located on Maple and Pine street.

Miss Jennie Scott is now at her home on East Culver avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Varnoy, late arrivals from Missouri, are now located at 330 South Center street.

Mr. Carl Lamberton of Lancaster has been a recent visitor at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Lamberton, North Glassell street.

Miss Mary McGuire of 333 South Orange street, is spending several days at the Arrowhead Springs hotel.

"We were very pleased with the sermon tonight," one said. "Please accept this contribution."

GUM IN GASOLINE IS VEXING PROBLEM BOTHERING REFINERS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—Another problem which may rise up to vex and harass motorists is pointed out by the bureau of mines in connection with an exhaustive report made on the subject of gum-forming substances in gasoline.

While this problem is one with which motorists primarily do not have to deal, yet care is necessary on the part of the manufacturer, to the end that it not develop after the gas has been sold to the consumer.

The bureau of mines in a report which has been transmitted to the N. M. A. states that additional studies of the various methods of evaporation and oxidation of cracked gasoline are to be made, and the results of the same will be made public promptly. In this connection the bureau says:

It sometimes happens that gasoline that is apparently normal when made will in time deposit small quantities of a gummy substance. The present investigation was undertaken in the hope that it would throw some light on these gums and indicate how their formation might be prevented. In the investigation just made a new and convenient method was developed for determining the "gum" in gasoline.

MOTOR VEHICLE LAW CONFAB SCHEDULED

Under appointment by Charles J. Chenu, director of the state motor vehicle department, Supervisor T. B. Talbert, of Huntington Beach, is to attend a state conference called for the purpose of proposing amendments to the state motor vehicle laws. This conference is to be held in San Francisco tomorrow.

Talbert goes to the conference as the representative of the California State Supervisors' association, an organization of county supervisors.

WILL DRAFT BILL

Following tomorrow's meeting, suggestions there made will be drafted into a bill, which will be submitted late in December to the conference and then submitted to the state legislature.

The personnel of the conference is largely made up of automobile and trucking interests. Auto clubs, car dealers' associations, truck associations, truck manufacturers and similar groups have the majority in numbers. The state highway commission, the state motor vehicle department, the railroads and other departments and interests are to be represented.

URGES WEIGHTS CURBED

It is known here that Talbert is a strong advocate of strict control of truck weights. He was present in Sacramento last spring as a representative of the supervisors of the state in an effort to reduce the load limit in the state from 30,000 to 22,000 pounds, and was present at the legislative committee meeting at which the auto club and trucking representatives made a fight against reduction of the load limit to less than 23,000 pounds. ### ORANGE

ORANGE, Nov. 27.—Mr. Alfred Hughes of 155 North Cleveland street has sold his property at 431 East Palmyra avenue, to Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Van Buren, who will be determined at the meeting to be held at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Y. M. C. A. rooms in the First National bank building. The next step of the Y. M. C. A. in development of its new playgrounds at Church and Sycamore streets probably will also be decided at this meeting, according to Ralph Smedley, building secretary, today.

Smedley announced that the meeting would be brief and would be dismissed in time for those present to attend the Elks' show.

F. C. Blauer, Harry W. Lewis and Alex Brownridge, the committee on the business men's classes, appointed to interview business men with reference to organizing classes, are convinced that there is a demand for some sort of gynastic and athletic work for business and professional men. It is planned to give the class work at 12 p.m. and 5 p.m. The movement will be carried through if sufficient interest is manifested tonight.

URGES SUGGESTIONS

"Friends of this project will earn the appreciation of the physicians by calling at 430 Spurgeon building and volunteering their subscriptions and making suggestions that will stimulate activity in reaching the goal," said Wastell.

"The organization has enlisted the best thought and much of the time of the sponsoring physicians, who are also calling upon their friends and patients, inviting them to participate in the financing of this much-needed institution.

These busy men have undertaken this as a contribution of time and money, through their personal subscriptions and in community service.

RESPONSE ENCOURAGING

"With but a comparatively small number of prospects visited, the response is very encouraging. Except in a few instances the withholding of assistance to this worthy cause, has been for good reasons and a number of these have stated that they expect to subscribe in January. Several doctors have developed unknown and latent talent as real salesmen, that is the despair of their fellow practitioners, who have been timid about trying their wings in this new field of endeavor.

"Mr. Ella Robinson, of Fullerton, visited Saturday and Sunday with friends here.

Mrs. Emily V. Reed, of 142 South Center street, recently entered the Loyal Women class at her hotel.

Mr. Clayton O'Neill and family are moving today to their new home on North Grand street.

MILLIONS PLAN THANKSGIVING CELEBRATION IN NATION

Santa Anans Join In Huge Observance; To Worship at Union Service

KIDDIES AID POOR

Pupils of City Prepare to Enjoy Holiday Here Thursday

Their hearts beating in tune with the spirit of thankfulness felt by America's millions, thousands of men, women and children in Santa Ana today began intensively to prepare for observing Thanksgiving day next Thursday.

Unlike the little band of Plymouth Colonists, who had but little for which to be thankful when in 1621 they celebrated the first Thanksgiving day in America, the nation now has and for many years past has had a superabundance of "the good things of life."

This year's Thanksgiving day will be celebrated no less earnestly than that first one at Plymouth nor less so than that Thursday, November 26, 1788, when George Washington proclaimed as the first official Thanksgiving day, in response to requests from both houses of congress.

Plan Union Service

In Santa Ana there will be a union church service, family dinners and the poor of the city will be provided with good, substantial meals.

The union services will be held at 10:30 a.m. at the United Presbyterian church, with the Rev. J. G. Kennedy, pastor of that church, preaching the sermon. Music by the church choir will be a feature.

Pastors of the city had sought to follow the custom of inviting the minister most recently to come to the city, to preach the Thanksgiving sermon. Accordingly an invitation was extended to the Rev. Will A. Betts, pastor of the First Methodist church, but previous arrangements made it impossible for him to accept.

The city's schools will observe the day only as a holiday. No programs will be given Wednesday, according to J. A. Cranston, superintendent of city schools.

Children to Help

Children have been requested to bring to school Wednesday morning contributions of food for the benefit of the poor. The Salvation Army will collect these donations Wednesday afternoon and will distribute them the following day.

Pupils of the junior high school recently made contributions, and the aggregate was of considerable proportions.

Superintendent Cranston expected Wednesday morning's contributions to be generous, and that the poor of the city would be supplied Thursday with an abundance of good things to eat.

Used clothing also would be acceptable, it was pointed out.

SEEK MOTORIST WHO STRUCK DOWN WOMEN

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Nov. 27.—Two aged women, Mrs. T. L. Elliott and Mrs. H. H. Curry, both of this city, were run down and seriously hurt by an automobile last night. Police are seeking the driver, who failed to stop. Two men were also injured Sunday night in auto accidents here.

TURKEY DAY SPREAD DUE TO COST 'DAD' SAME AS LAST YEAR

Today, when the thoughts of the good housewife turns to toothsome viands, Dad, fingering his bank-roll and remembering that 'tis the eve of Thanksgiving, wants to know what the big national spread is going to cost him.

"Well," says the progressive Santa Ana merchant, "the big annual feed will cost you about what it cost last year. Maybe a little less, maybe a little more. It depends upon what you buy—and where."

If you buy turkey, for example, the great American bird will cost you something like 55 or 60 cents a pound. Choice stock, of course.

Again, if your fancy turns to a mother used to make, and the gorgeous plum-pudding that Dad likes so well, local dealers said the ingredients would "cost" about the same, thank you."

That is, currants, raisings, meats, suets and the other little necessities will range around last year's prices, with excellent meat for mincing purposes selling at from 20 to 30 cents, and suet at about 8 cents a pound.

Oranges, a trifling scarce, will sell at prices ranging from 40 to 60 cents a dozen, while bananas, fairly plentiful, will retail at from 10 to 15 cents a pound. Few, if any will be about 6 cents.

Rabbit? These toothsome little animals will set you back about 50 cents a pound. For those of simpler tastes, choice pork roast may be had at 35 cents.

As for the "trimmings," cranberries will retail at about 25 cents, and will be plentiful. Delicious young peas, however, will not be so easy to find. Carlsbad, south of Santa Ana, will contribute a few crates for the local market. Prices of peas will range from 16 to 18 cents a pound.

There will be plenty of lettuce,

MEXICAN CAB FARES ARE CUT BY METERS

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 27.—The rainbow is well represented in the veritable flood of taxicabs that has descended on the capital during the past few weeks.

Displacing the small cars which hitherto have been the only means of motor transportation, one may now ride in a taxi of almost any hue—yellow, blue, white, brown, green and variegated. The original colored taxicabs were operated by organized companies, but their competition became too great and several chauffeurs met it by painting their cars. The new taxicabs have fare meters, something new in Mexico, and the result has been a general decrease in cab fares.

RACING URGED AS FEATURE FOR FAIRS

Following investigations at Ventura and Pomona that have convinced each member that racing is an asset rather than a liability, the racing committee of the Orange County Fair association was prepared to present late today to the directors of the organization recommendations that racing be featured at the Orange county fairs. The directors were scheduled to meet at the Chamber of Commerce at 4 p.m.

At a meeting Saturday the committee voted unanimously to make such recommendations. The committee is composed of Harry D. Riley, chairman, Anaheim; N. T. Ellsworth, Orange; A. S. Bradford, Placentia; Charles D. Spicer, Santa Ana, and C. E. Leavering, Huntington Beach.

Riley stated today that those in direct charge of the fairs at Ventura, Riverside and Pomona had informed him that they would not think of conducting a fair without a racing program. He asserted that the officials of the three fairs had declared to him that 75 per cent of the attendance at the respective fairs was drawn by racing.

Gives Cost Estimates.
Riley says that it is estimated that it will cost approximately $12,000 to build a race track, with inside and outside fences, grandstand to accommodate 5000 and bleachers for 4000.

The committee Saturday visited the proposed fair grounds on South Bristol street and Fairview avenue, and a sixty-acre tract on the state highway north of the George Ford tract, about half way between Santa Ana and Anaheim. The tract contains sixty acres and Riley said that an option had been obtained. The property belongs to J. O. Swartzbaugh. Riley said that in his opinion it is the ideal location being centrally located as regards population of the county. He pointed out that it is 4.3 miles from the corner of Main and Fourth streets, Santa Ana, whereas the old fair grounds are two miles from the same point.

SENATE COMMITTEE DELAYS NOMINATION

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—Action on the confirmation of Pierce Butler, St. Paul, as associate justice of the United States supreme court, was held up by the senate judiciary committee today.

Some members requested that time be given for further investigation regarding Butler's qualifications. For this reason consideration was postponed with no definite date set for taking it up.

WAYS TO COOK TURKEY TOLD BY EXPERT

Don't Choose Bird Solely Because of Its Appearance, Is Advice

That Santa Ana housewives may be familiar with the most up-to-the-minute secrets of preparing "the great American bird" for this year's Thanksgiving day dinner there present here several recipes both for stuffing and roasting the Royal Turk for the "trimmin's." They were presented by Bertha E. Shapleigh, Columbia University, for the Newspaper Enterprise Association, Cleveland, O.

By BERTHA E. SHAPLEIGH (Member Columbia Faculty.)

In choosing a turkey do not be guided entirely by appearance. Many a homely turkey has proved delicious when eaten.

Generally speaking, it is wise to buy a turkey weighing not over 12 pounds, and many prefer a hen turkey to a gobbler.

A loose jointed bird is always tenderest.

The stuffing flavors the meat more uniformly if it is put into the bird the night before it is to be roasted.

A word regarding the stuffing.

There are many different kinds of stuffing, although all have a bread or cracker foundation.

Crackers Popular

In New England, crackers, or cracker and bread crumbs mixed, have been thought to make a most excellent stuffing, especially when hot milk is used to moisten the crumbs.

Some do not care for a moist stuffing, but wish the bread crumbled and moistened with melted butter or bacon fat, and seasoned with salt and pepper.

A baker's loaf of bread soaked in water and then squeezed dry, makes a good stuffing, not as dry as the one just described, nor yet as moist as some.

Seasonings to suit individual taste may be added.

Some cooks cook the giblets in water, finely chop them, and add to the bread, using the water in which they were cooked to moisten the stuffing.

Use Sausage Meat

Some like to use sausage meat for flavor. Some put just thyme, others like sage, and still others mix various seasonings in all stuffings.

Oysters added to a bread stuffing give a flavor which many think very good.

The large Italian chestnuts, when shelled, boiled and mashed, make a stuffing the flavor of which cannot be improved, in some people's opinion.

If stuffing is to be served sliced with cold turkey, an egg added when making is an improvement.

A ten-pound turkey is better if roasted for two and one-half to three hours, and frequent basting will be the secret of a beautiful brown, crisp outside.

As to Fat

If the turkey has any inside fat near the vent, remove, wash, and place on legs, when putting in the oven.

Do not add water for the first half hour, unless the oven is so hot that the skin will become too dark a brown immediately.

Place giblets in water and boil, and use that water for basting the turkey. When the giblets are tender, pour remainder of water

BEAN MEN GET THANKSGIVING DIVIDEND

Association Distributes $1,750,000 To So. Calif. Growers

One million, seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars in early payments for the 1922 crop!

This according to R. L. Churchill, secretary and manager of the California Lima Bean Growers' association, is the one big reason bean growers of Southern California should be doubly thankful at this season of the year.

"This appears to be a favorable year for growers of lima and baby beans in Southern California," says Churchill, in a statement released.

"Thanksgiving will be a time when the growers will have something for which to be truly thankful. They produced fair crops.

They had a favorable harvesting season. They have already received liberal payments, and they are assured of a reasonable return for their season's work, instead of suffering losses, as has been their experience in past years.

Association Distributes Cash.

"Bean farmers who are members of the California Lima Bean Growers' association will have received before the end of this month nearly $1,750,000 in early payments for their 1922 crop.

"Such a large and early distribution to association growers, is chiefly the result of the active sale and movement of beans at good prices, and is also partly due to a special financial arrangement which the association succeeded in making with several large banks.

"Until this season, one of the biggest problems of the bean grower was to get enough money early in the fall, to pay his harvesting expenses and taxes, and the matter of getting quick returns, has been known nobody knows how many years.

Squawdilla and Escondido, meaning 'Hidden', was what the Spanish-speaking vaqueros called it fifty years ago when Jonathan Watson, still living in the Santa Ana canyon above Olive, brought out what was supposed to be the title of Juan Canyado, of Spanish or Mexican descent, who had built for himself a cabin of sycamore logs. Others who used the Spanish language appeared and claimed ancient rights, and Watson, to avoid trouble and to maintain the place for his sheep, settled with them all.

Watson sold the place to his brother, Charles, and Bill Carter, and they in turn sold it. Again, and again in the past fifty years, has the place been bought and sold.

It has been used as stock ranch for sheep, far cattle, for horses and for Shetland ponies, and as a mountain home. It has been homesteaded, and deeded and leased and filed upon.

And, strange as it may seem, title has never been passed, for those who really owned it have never relinquished a foot of it.

The valley, between the rugged ridges, is partly railroad land, not for sale, and partly lies within the Cleveland National Forest and has never been opened for entry.

Pass Possessory

It is impossible at this late date, without considerable trouble, to trace the possessory.

Charles Watson, engineer of the water works at Orange, says that he and Bill Carter had the place in 1879. The year before a man named Bill Raney built the road up the canyon from the Santiago

SAYS BUSINESS LOST BECAUSE OF W. FIFTH STREET BAD CONDITION

Merchants and Manufacturers' Head to Present Matter to Directors

HOLDS ACTION VITAL

Trade Diverted to Other Cities Due to State of Main Artery Into S. A.

Declaring that business in Santa Ana is suffering loss, and that the city is gaining an inevitable reputation because of West Fifth street, Charles L. Davis, president of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association, today announced his intention of bringing before the directors of the organization, at a meeting Tuesday of next week, the matter of taking some steps to correct the condition.

At the same time he said that in view of the movement now in progress for installation of an ornamental lighting system on Fifth street, from French street west, efforts should be made to put in new pavement on blocks that are now badly "shot."

He suggested that if a bond issue cannot be obtained for rebuilding Fifth street from Baker west to the city limits, an assessment district, including the greater portion of the city, should be created to pay for the work.

Street Main Artery

"West Fifth street is the main artery into Santa Ana from the west and it should not be permitted to continue in its present condition longer than is absolutely necessary," said the president of the merchants' organization.

"I know personally that a vast amount of west-of-the-river trade that formerly came to Santa Ana has been diverted to Anaheim because West Fifth is in such bad condition.

"I am told that residents of the Smelter and Huntington Beach districts are trading in Long Beach going there rather than to come in to Santa Ana over West Fifth street. The county has made good improvement from the city limits west to the Huntington Beach boulevard. It is my opinion that this city should make the same character of improvement on the main street connecting with the county system.

Stocks, Markets and Financial News

WALL ST. JOURNAL FINANCIAL REVIEW

Steel Common Drops to New Low Level Under Professional Pressure

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Sterling's new high on the movement hardly fitted in with the gloomy picture of the European situation painted last week by bear operators as a background for the selling movement in stocks. Hence they had to fall back upon talk regarding the prospect of radical legislation by the new congress to account for the renewed selling in today's stock market.

What appeared to be the real reason for the further outburst of liquidation and professional pressure was the impairment of marginal accounts resulting from the drastic character of the recent decline. Many speculative accounts were thrown overboard during the morning simply because a larger number of traders had reached the point where they were unwilling or unable to put up more money. When this stage of a decline is reached it usually results in a demoralized condition in the general market at various times during the day.

Just such a situation took place around 1 p.m. today. Steel Common broke to an extreme low of 100 1-8, a recession of more than 11 points from its recent high and other speculative leaders like Baldwin and Studebakers appeared alarmingly weak.

The market closed lower.

OYSTER STUFFING2 dozen oysters
1 quart bread crumbs
½ cup butter
1 small onion finely chopped

Melt butter and in it cook the onion, without browning, for five minutes. Add to bread crumbs with the oysters, which have been cleaned and are free from any bits of shell. Season with salt and pepper, adding more if necessary.

This amount of stuffing will be sufficient for a medium-sized turkey.

Shell and blanch the chestnuts, by cooking in boiling water for 20 minutes. Put blanched chestnuts in boiling water and cook until soft. Mash one-half of the chestnuts and add to bread crumbs with seasonings; cook sausage meat with the onion for five minutes. Add to the bread crumb and chestnut mixture with remaining chestnuts, broken in small pieces.CHICKEN PIE1 four-pound chicken

2 stalks celery, or 1-2 cup finely cut

3 quarts water (boiling)

½ tablespoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
1 pimento (canned) cut into small pieces
1 green pepper-cut into small pieces

Clean, singe and cut into pieces for serving the chicken, wash thoroughly, place in kettle with onion thinly sliced, carrot cut in thin slices, and celery cut into small pieces. Cook until chicken is tender, adding salt and pepper when half done. Place the chicken in a casserole or baking dish, add pimento and green pepper and two potatoes cut into eighths if desired.

Thicken with Flour

The liquor which remains in kettle may be thickened with 1-3 cup flour, diluted with a little cold water to make a smooth paste. Pour over the meat, leaving the carrot, onion and celery in it. Season to taste. Cover with a good paste, and bake until paste is done, about 20 to 25 minutes in an oven hot enough to send the pastry up and slightly brown it in the first fifteen minutes. Then reduce the heat.

Many housewives like to use, instead of a pie paste, a rich biscuit dough, and cut out of the dough tiny biscuits. Place these on top the pie a little distance apart, and bake fifteen minutes in a hot oven.

Oaks. Instead of rough mountainside, back of the house is a sloping hill covered over with sagebrush, and the canyon, dividing at the house, reaches off in either direction, between hillsides, with sycamores dotting the waterways—between ridges whose lower portions were covered with grass and light brush and which rise to a rough, bushy rim.

The house itself sits just beyond a sycamore and beside a small group of eucalyptus trees. It seems that most of the old timers felt that they had not settled down in a new home until eucalyptus trees had been planted close to the dwelling, for wherever a pioneer mountaineer lived, today we find eucalyptus.

It's a square-built house with a four-sided roof and a porch in front, more of a little country dwelling than it is a mountain cabin. A score of yards to the left is the old barn and its shed. And beside it a circular corral into which cattle are herded for branding.

This yard is the scene of a bloody chapter in Orange county's criminal history. Here occurred a shooting that rent political life in Orange county asunder some twenty-two years ago. Perhaps no death by violence touched the public career of any man in this county quite so closely as did this affair, the killing of James Gregg on June 9, 1899, affect the career of a superior court judge.

We have no desire to unearth the bloody details of that affair. We would fain forget that this quiet spot, esconced in age-old mountains, far from cities where murders are the daily food of those who read newspapers, is stained by blood.

Shooting in 1899. But the history of the canyon, in part, is written in blood. In it occurred the battle of scouts and Indians in 1831. Beside its stream the desperado who with six-shooters in 1861 fought with J. E. Pleasants paused to wash and dress his wounds. And years ago, on the ridge into Fremont canyon, a cattlemen named Myers, riding a rough trail at night, was thrown from his horse and killed.

Pause now in the year 1899, affect the career of a superior court judge. The Hidden Ranch at that time was in the hands of Henry Hungerford, of Norwalk, and George M. Howard, who had lived at Anaheim. At the ranch with these two was Hungerford's brother, Thomas L. Hungerford.

One the evening of June 8, James M. Gregg, of Centralia, and his brother-in-law, Decatur Harris, and Clinton Hunt, a boy of 15, arrived for the purpose of driving out some stock that Gregg owned.

Gregg and Henry Hungerford quarreled. It seems that Howard owed Gregg $10 on a horse trade. Gregg insisted that Hungerford accept $7.50 in settlement of a $17.50 pasture bill.

That night Gregg, Harris and Hunt slept on the ground in front of the house. When Gregg was rolled up his blankets the next morning he and Henry Hungerford resumed the dispute, and it ended in shooting. The Hungerfords, each with a shotgun, and Gregg, with a revolver, fought it out.

When the shooting ceased, Gregg was on the ground with charges of buckshot and birdshot through him.

The Hungerfords hitched up a horse, drove into Santa Ana and gave themselves up to Sheriff Theo. Lacy. Gregg was put into a spring wagon. Near the County park the spring wagon was met by Sheriff Lacy and R. Y. Williams, then district attorney, now a judge of the superior court. A doctor was obtained at El Modena, and it was at a house in El Modena that Gregg died.

Ballard Defeated. The trial, before Judge J. W. Ballard, resulted in the conviction of Henry Hungerford for second degree murder. A new trial was sought, and Judge Ballard granted it on the ground that the evidence was not sufficient to warrant the verdict. This decision resulted in the dismissal of the case, for all the evidence obtainable had been presented.

The case had aroused widespread interest throughout the county, and the decision of Judge Ballard entered largely into the campaign that followed soon afterward in which Judge Ballard was a candidate for re-election. Ballard was defeated by Z. B. West, who remains today in the position to which he was then elected.

The house where the shooting occurred is today used as a stopping place by cowboys when they are at the Hidden ranch looking after cattle, which are grazing along the sycamore-dotted canyon bottoms.

We—that is, Robert Northcross, Nat Neff and I—passed through about two score of these white-faced, curious beasts, backing off, half-wild, as we approached, in a jaunt we took from the ranch house up the west branch of the Black Star, and to the top of the ridge looking over into the head of Fremont canyon, and far off across the lower foothills to the Santa Ana valley.

It was a misty day, and clouds hung down over the top of the Santa Ana range, so that our view toward the east was not what we would have liked. To the west, however, all was clear.

As we proceeded up the Black

Star from the ranch house, we found the wall of heavy brush along the top of the ridge continuing, and at the top of each draw was a wall of rock, fit places for cliff-dwellers.

Robber's Rock. Somewhere among those cliffs is a cave, the home of hundreds of bats, that Jess Davis had told about—a cave thirty or forty feet deep with its top blackened with ancient fires built by Indians, shepherds, or outlaws. Davis said that he had preferred to think the cave was used by outlaws, and to he and his family had always called the place Robber's Rock.

A mile or two above the house we spied what appeared to be a firebreak leading up a side-ridge toward the top of the main ridge on the right. This proved to be an alley through thick brush. Scrub oak, greasewood, sumac, manzanita and a dozen other shrubs massed the alley on either side. This convenient trail was built a few years ago as a sled-way for hauling fence posts to the Irvine line, wher barbed wire was being stretched along the ranch's edge.

It seems that most of the old timers felt that they had not settled down in a new home until eucalyptus trees had been planted close to the dwelling, for wherever a pioneer mountaineer lived, today we find eucalyptus.

BEAN MEN GET THANKSGIVING DIVIDEND

cation received payments about October 15 on account of their September deliveries, amounting to approximately $730,000. About November 15, on account of their October deliveries, they were paid a little more than $1,000,000. A portion of this last payment was to meet the request of growers for an additional payment of 1c. per pound, but the greater part applied to bringing the total payment up to 3c. per pound on both varieties, funds for which were secured from the proceeds of sales and shipments.

Million Bag Production.

"The 1922 production of regular limas in Southern California was about 1,100,000 bags. There were about 170,000 bags of baby limas.

"Warehouse records indicate that on November 1, more than 50 per cent of the baby lima crop had been shipped, and more than 40 per cent of the crop of regular limas had gone to market. It is estimated that more than half the crop of regular limas and nearly 75 per cent of the crop of baby limas were sold before November 15.

"Because a large proportion of growers who are not members of the association sold their beans as soon as harvested, and before prices advanced materially, it seems reasonable to assume that members of the California Lima Bean Growers' association will fare better than the average of the outside growers this season."

the Fremont side. We decide to make it our destination, and the end of the journey.

Climbing to this rocky point from the rear, we have laid before us in the distance the whole of the Santa Ana valley, from the oil wells of Brea and Richfield on the north to Newport bay on the south. We see tiny ribbons that are roads, and the white streak where the river cuts across the landscape, and the cities resting there, with the ocean shining in the background—a wonderful and an inspiring view.

IN WEST END FILM

There is an exciting chase in Charles Ray's latest photoplay, "Smudge," in which the star, as Steve Stanton, uses a trick to foil his pursuers.

As part of the plot, Steve stops his car for a second near an orange orchard, takes one of the smudge pots, used to drive away the frost, and puts it on the running board of his car. The dense smoke which it emits practically made it impossible for those in the second car to keep to the road.

Lloyd Bacon, son of Frank Bacon, of "Lightnin'" fame, was one of the actors in the pursuing car, and the thick smoke nearly blinded him. He was driving and found the utmost difficulty in piloting the car, and at times there was serious danger that the automobile would roll over one of the cliffs in the foothills. All this is apparent in the film, and although the chase is short and sharp, it is shock full of excitement.

"Smudge," which was written by Bob Wagner, is now showing at the West End theater.

"DON'T WRITE LETTERS" AT PRINCESS TONIGHT

Bobby Jenks, whose one grievance against himself is his shortness in stature, quits his job at the gents' socks counter when the war fever gets him, and enlists. All his ambitions for achieving heroic exploits which he hoped would make him a man among millions, receive a severe setback when, on his arrival in France, he is assigned the job of cook. But when Bobby receives a letter and a photograph from a pretty girl whom he does not know, he determines to satisfy her desire for a "tall, fearless soldier, thinking of her always." She believes from

GAINS 25 POUNDS AND FEELS LIKE NEW PERSON

"Tanlac has actually built me up twenty-five pounds in weight and I am now enjoying wonderful health," declared Mrs. Mamie E. Doud, of 648 Hayes St., San Francisco, Calif.

"A severe attack of influenza left me in awful health. My appetite was so poor that nothing appealed to me, and what little I did eat caused terrible spells of indigestion, bloating and heart palpitation. I had dreadful pains in my back and rheumatism in my left knee which ached and pained me so bad I could hardly bear my weight on it. I felt so miserable that life hardly seemed worth living."

"But Tanlac has rid me of my troubles just like it was made especially for me. I eat heartily and enjoy my meals now, and I never have an ache or pain; in fact, I simply feel like a new woman."

Tanlac is sold by all good drug-gists.—Adv.

A scene from "The Prisoner of Zenda", attraction at Princess theater.

When, after twenty-two days of herculean struggle, the rescue party reached the bodies of the forty-seven men buried in the Argonaut gold mine, they found them lying in rows, as if the men had peacefully composed themselves to sleep. What they thought, whether they spent their last conscious moments in prayer, no living tongue may ever tell. But those that lived through and after this horror, they, too, have a story to relate, and this story is faithfully told in the great motion picture, "The Argonaut Mine Disaster," to be shown at the Temple theater next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

KELLY FIGURES TO BEAT KID MEXICO

L. A. Middleweight to Meet Beach Boxer at Delhi Wednesday Night

DELHI CARD
Main Event—Kid Mexico vs. Tom Kelly, 158 pounds.
Double semi-windup—Henry Gatten vs. Eddie Rowe, 158 pounds; Young Vasquez vs. Billy Maxwell, 150 pounds.
Preliminaries—Johnny Nandes vs. Young Monroe, 118 pounds.
Joe Riley vs. Battling Doty, 135 pounds.
Pete Wagner vs. Kid McCarter, 110 pounds.

Tom Kelly, the Los Angeles middleweight boxer who knocked Leo Matlock for a loop at Delhi two weeks ago, is a confident young gentleman.

Kelly is matched to meet Kid Mexico in the main clash at Boyd Ellis' arena next Wednesday night. Evidently he doesn't fear the blonde Huntington Beach boy very much for he went ahead and matched himself with Louie Steigemeyer for the feature preliminary at Vernon tomorrow night.

Kelly will be out for some revenge when he mixes with Mexico here. It wasn't very long ago that he lost a judge's decision to the beach scrapper by a hair-line margin. Kelly had been sailing along out in front for three rounds but Mex came through in the last round and managed to cap. The fight might well have been a draw.

Mex has informed Ellis that he is in good condition again after a month of inactivity. He figures he will be able to hang it up in the former coast amateur champion.

Hank Gatten meets Eddie Rowe in the first part of the double-semiwindup. Rowe has never been seen in action at Delhi but his handler, Tommy McFarland, claims

Here Is How Rival Grid Teams Will Line Up At Fullerton Tomorrow

According to the best dope available the Santa Ana and Fullerton teams will take the field at Fullerton tomorrow afternoon come to The Register building about 2:30 o'clock and do the next best thing—hear the results.

The Register has arranged to have installed on the sidelines a telephone which will lead directly to its office. As a play is made it will be phoned here and then megaphoned to the crowd.

Persons who phone to The Register for results are requested to use 1650 and 90.

TACKLE MULLIGAN IS NAMED ARMY CAPTAIN

WEST POINT, N. Y., Nov. 27.—Cadet Dennis J. Mulligan, New York, right tackle for three years on the Army team, has been elected captain of the 1923 eleven.

He will show Gatten a lot of new tricks. It looks like a good match. Young Vasquez will tangle with Billy Maxwell who showed lots of bouting class in his first appearance at Delhi two months ago.

Battling Doty, of Wintersburg, a boy who looked like a comer in his first appearance will take on Rockne, Notre Dame coach, at a salary said to be in excess of $7,500. Rockne is said to have answered that his contract has two years to run at Notre Dame and he would not ask to be relieved.

ROCKNE OFFERED JOB AS COACH AT W. & J.

WASHINGTON, Pa., Nov. 27.—Although not announced officially, it is known that Earle Neale will return to W. and J. next year as head football coach. The position has been offered to Knute Rockne, Notre Dame coach, at a salary said to be in excess of $7,500. Rockne is said to have answered that his contract has two years to run at Notre Dame and he would not ask to be relieved.

YALE GRID RECEIPTS MAY TOTAL $500,000

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 27.—Yale football receipts for the 1922 season probably will be between $400,000 and $500,000, it is estimated. The bowl was filled twice with 77,000 for the Army and Harvard games, and Iowa drew 55,000. The other games on the schedule drew between 10,000 and 25,000.

PRINCETON NAMED BEST EAST ELEVEN

Expert Ranks Tigers First For Season; California High Scoring Team

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent), NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Princeton's place at the top of eastern football is firmly established.

Princeton, Cornell, the Army and West Virginia remain undefeated so perhaps the claim of the Tigers to the eastern championship can be disputed. None can deny, however, that the Tigers have the best record.

The Army proved itself to be one of the most powerful teams in the east in winning from the Navy, but as long as West Point goes on to victories with players who have been playing for five, six, seven and as many as eight years, it is not fair to consider the cadets for championships.

One of the surprises was the defeat administered to the Washington and Jefferson eleven by Detroit. The narrow escape Lafayette had in beating Lehigh only 3 to 0 was another jolt.

Because many of the experts figured Yale to be the favorite the victory of Harvard in the last of the big three games might be considered a surprise. Yale's only hope for victory rested in playing a different game than the Ellis had played all season and they didn't do it. Yale had the material and perhaps the coaching but Yale didn't have football brains.

In beating Stanford, 28 to 0, the great California eleven was able to retain its position as the best scoring machine among the major teams. The Bears have piled up a total of 398 points. Leading the east and second in the national list is Cornell with 330 points. Auburn has the lead in the south with 277 and Iowa was the best in the midwest with 208.

Michigan and Notre Dame had the best defense in the country. Each had only 13 points scored against them. Notre Dame, however, had her goal line crossed once while the Michigan line was twice crossed. Depauw scored one touchdown on Notre Dame, while Georgia Tech and Butler scored a field goal each. Both Wisconsin and Minnesota scored touchdowns on Michigan and Minnesota added the point after touchdown.

Brunneur, Lafayette back, was the best individual scorer among the major elevens with 86 points; Wilson of Penn State and Roberton of Carnegie Tech, scored 73 and Pfann of Cornell had 66.

Kelly's pitching was one of the features of the game. Twice he worked out of bad holes when Long Beach had three men on bases. Arambel's work behind the bat was excellent.

LA HABRA OPENS BIG ASSET IN BUILDING

RECONSTRUCT OLD SPANISH MISSION

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Nov. 27.—The work of reconstructing the Old Serra Church is going ahead rapidly. The adobe blocks have all been assembled, completing the walls where the wonderful old altar will be placed. The huge, hand-hewn timbers for that portion of the roof have been laid, and soon the old Spanish tile will be placed, covering that sacred spot where the two Fathers lay. The old altar, which was brought from Mexico, is being assembled by Mr. Sebastian Masa, a noted carver and craftsman. A few more months will see the completion of the church, thanks to the constant work and planning of Father O'Sullivan, the resident priest. To Father O'Sullivan, the people of Orange county and even the State of California owe a great debt; for without his untiring efforts, constant labor and many hardships this beautiful old historic landmark would not be nestled in such a lovely old fashioned garden, where the many tourists can once more visit and roam through the romantic old place.

In the quiet coolness of the Adobe Studio, met the members of the Woman's Club of Capistrano on Tuesday afternoon. Pleasant chats, mingled with talks of present day events passed the time of the guests. Delightful refreshments were served by Mrs. Raymond Henry, the hostess of the afternoon.

PAULARINO, Nov. 27.—Mr. and Mrs. Alex Jamieson and daughters, Ethel Hughes were visitors here Friday afternoon.

School was dismissed Friday noon on account of having no water.

Mrs. Bierbower and son Edsel, daughters, Iva De Etta and Helen, were callers at the Flint home Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Boyd was a visitor at the Paularino school Tuesday.

Stacy Flint, Nate Hughes and Mr. and Mrs. Jamieson attended the inquest at the Smith and Tuthill chapel in Santa Ana Thursday afternoon into the death of Joseph Lieberman.

Harry Jessee, Claude Chilcoat and William Trenary were visitors Thursday evening.

Those from Paularino who attended the Lieberman funeral Friday morning were Mr. and Mrs. Babb, Mr. and Mrs. Bogart, Mrs. Reeves, Mr. and Mrs. Nate Hughes, Mrs. Chilcoat, Claude and Edna Chilcoat, Mr. and Mrs. Flint and sons Leonard, Ardra and Forest, and daughter, Hazel.

ON HUNGER STRIKE FOR HUSBAND'S LOVE

SKOWHEGAN, Me., Nov. 27.—Mrs. Louis C. Britton of this place now is in the second week of a "hunger strike" undertaken, she has announced, in the hope of winning back the affections of her husband who has brought suit for divorce.

Neighbors who called today at the hero—a sheet from an old blue-ringed copy book, the words partially printed, the letters uneven, "r" and "w" always a head taller than the rest.

"I called them 'are-ah' and 'double-ah,'" she said. "They were harder to make than the others."

Then she gave his arm a little squeeze.

"Isn't the postscript heavenly?"

He thought the fingers were on his heart. He could hardly read the dim-printed line.

"And if you come over and lick the Yankees, I will love you more better."

He felt himself going weak all over. This was the only letter that any woman had ever written him. He had got innumerable letters pretending to be, but this was the only one.

And here it was an April flower reaching him in winter. Her youth, dimpled and red-mouthed, pulling at him, a cool finger crooked around his heart.

He felt that he was capable of committing any folly. But he had dined sitting in the window of the English hotel at sunset.

And all at once he realized that from that hour, from the moment the horse fell in the wet street, every incident and detail—the girl, the rising, the violence, the splendid love idyl of his life had been figments of the fancy!

And vaguely, as from a distance, he heard the big surgeon going on:

"Beautiful operation, Sir Henry. We shall have you in the saddle at Khartoum in a fortnight."

Another thrilling adventure of M. Jonquelle, "The Woman on the Terrace," will begin in our next issue.

THE LAUGHTER OF ALLAH

BEGIN HERE TODAY

M. JONQUELLE, greatest of French detectives, tells this story of the love affair of a great Englishman—the only romantic episode in the life of the world-famous figure who met a tragic death in the North Sea after a brilliant career in Egypt.

Riding through the streets of Cairo, he was suddenly thrown from his horse. A charming white girl helped him into her motor car and brought him to her home. The Englishman during the ride to the house, observed signs of unrest among the natives. But he said nothing. When they entered the girl's home they found that all the native servants had deserted. The girl rang the bell in the drawing room but no familiar native face answered.

"It was fine! They were afraid!"

And again, all over, the man felt that heavenly warmth. Her figure in the soft light seemed rounded out. Her slender face gleamed like a flower. And he wanted to take her in his arms and clutch her to his mouth. He felt, in a sort of panic, that in a moment his heart would go.

GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER III.

PASSING THE CENTER-TABLE, AS BY inadvertence, she turned down a photograph frame.

THE SIMPLE, UNCONSCIOUS ACT caught the man's attention, and when he was alone he picked the thing up and turned it over. It was an old, battered, silver ring, enclosing a picture of himself cut out of an illustrated paper. The picture was yellow with age and marked around in faded ink. It showed a smart young officer above a legend of "Brilliant Achievement." He remembered distinctly the very day that a marked copy of this paper had come to him, sent out by an adored aunt.

Good name, in man and woman,
Is the immediate jewel of their souls.
Who steals my purse, steals trash, 'tis something, nothing;
'Twas mine, 'tis his, and has been slave to thousands;
But he that filches from me my good name,
Robs me of that, which not enriches him,
And makes me poor indeed.

OUR THANKSGIVING DAY

The Register issues its Thanksgiving number today in order that we may attune our hearts and minds to the spirit of the day—that we may ponder its significance and importance, and approach it with real thanksgiving.

On the coming of each Thanksgiving Day, we are inclined to look back upon the year that has intervened since the last Thanksgiving Day and go over in our minds just what specific things we have for which to render thanks. In that regard, we are altogether too likely to put thanksgiving upon a monetary basis. "What," asks we, "has the year meant to us financially?"

However fortunate we may have been in our investments or business, the question of finances is the least of the things to be of concern at this time. Far more important is it that we survey the progress that we have made mentally and spiritually.

Even though one's pocketbook may be no thicker today than it was a year ago, one is unquestionably richer in experience and one ought to be richer in thought and in the desire to be of service to mankind.

By the measure of prosperity, the residents of Orange county have reason to be thankful. True, everything has not been as all of us would have wished; in this life, everything seldom is. When we realize that we escaped the period of depression that covered most of the United States like a blanket of gloom, and that our activities here have been enhanced by the activities of the country over, we are bound to have a feeling of gratitude.

Our opportunities for development in the things that go to make for intellectual advancement and for richness in character building were never better in Orange County than they are today. Our churches, our schools, our civic organizations, our clubs—these have given to us a year filled with good things. We believe that the general atmosphere of life throughout the county is one for the making of better men and women. Our general attitude toward life is on a higher plane, and the people of the county as a whole are today better citizens and better satisfied with their lot as residents of the county than ever before.

Truly, we have reason for thanksgiving, not only for the growth that each of us has made in his own life but in the opportunities that are ours for the future.

A day or two more, and many a turkey sultan will abdicate in the great American barnyard.

HONORING PIONEERS

A group of Rocky Mountain "Pilgrim Fathers" are to be honored in Colorado on Thanksgiving Day, in accordance with the proclamation of the governor of that state. Pioneer Fathers is a better name for them. They are the men who went to Colorado in 1859 or earlier. It is reported that there are only 50 living persons who qualify.

This is a new note in Thanksgiving celebrating, but it is one worth developing. The Pilgrim Fathers of New England deserve much credit and honor for their courage and perseverance in the face of many serious obstacles. Their example was followed by the pioneers who struck out westward from the Atlantic seaboard to discover, explore, settle and develop the vast areas beyond the first settlements. The history of that section of the North American continent which is the United States would have been very different if the pioneers from the original 13 colonies had not done their heroic part.

As Christmas is a day for children, so Thanksgiving is a day for the elder ones who have borne the brunt of early hardships and carried on in order that there might be progress, peace, health and happiness to be thankful for.

ECONOMIC EDUCATION

If Americans ever deserved Frank Vanderlip's characterization as "a nation of economic illiterates," they do so no longer. Theodore H. Price, editor of Commerce and Finance, finds that in the last few years people have been studying economics intensively. The popular magazines, he says, have found their readers as much interested in commercial and financial articles as they were formerly in short stories. Anyone may verify this fact for himself by observing what the magazines are printing or what his friends are reading and talking about. The newspapers reflect the same fact in the increased space they devote to business reports and comments.

What is the result? Mr. Price thinks he sees a steady effect on American business, due to this clearer knowledge of economic conditions and the working of economic law. "It is possible," he suggests, "that the interval between cause and effect in business may be shortened and that, having become mentally more alert, men will more promptly discount a change in conditions."

That is, our people will pursue a steadier course, and not fly to such extremes as they have in the past, in the stock market, in wages and prices, in business expansion and contraction. He suspects that such a steady effect is operating now, and that the country is stopping short of undue inflation because large numbers of people know that inflation would have to stop before long anyway, and are sensible enough to put their knowledge into effect at once.

This sounds almost too good to be true, but it may be. If wild booms and sequent slumps can be prevented hereafter by any human agency, the benefits, public and private, will repay hard study.

RUSSIA ALL BOLSHEVIST

The Far Eastern Republic, recently declared separate from Soviet Russia and opposed to its policies, has turned Soviet and wants to join the rest of Russia as a federated state. With this movement apparently vanishes the last hope for a political "White Russia" untinged by Bolshevik principles.

The news is a blow to many who hoped to see the anti-Soviet doctrine spread from the Siberian republic through the rest of the country. It will have a disconcerting influence on business interests in Siberia. The American fur industry is affected, for one. The Siberian state was pledged against the dictatorship of the proletariat, the confiscation of private property and those other radical communistic doctrines which made commercial relations with the rest of Russia impractical.

But even if the last organized "White" movement has passed, the leaven has worked and is working throughout all Russia. It is as much from the pressure of these forces within the country as from pressure without that Lenin has been compelled to acknowledge openly to his followers that the world, Russia included, is not ready to do without capitalism and individualism, and that many of the wildest radical theories will have to be abandoned. This enforced tempering of Bolshevism is the best hope of Russia today, and the best assurance of the nations which have to deal with her.

EDUCATION WEEK

"In order that we may keep in mind the need constantly to improve our educational system," President Harding has issued a proclamation setting aside the week of Dec. 3 to 9 as American Education Week.

The President urges that in all communities the civic authorities, the schools, the public and the home unite for better understanding of the work of the schools, for improving and broadening their activities and obtaining the fullest co-operation between them and other branches of community life.

"Without vision the people perish. Without education there can be little vision," says the President. It is a truth which needs to be pressed home.

"How does education fare in this community?" should be the live question of education week, and from that start an impetus be given which will raise educational efficiency and maintain it at high standard all through the year.

ANOTHER COAL STRIKE?

Representatives of the soft coal miners and operators, meeting in Chicago after long preparation, have had trouble in agreeing on a method whereby they can get together later to figure out next year's wage scale.

When there is so much difficulty with a mere preliminary, what will they do when they face the actual wage question and the real tug of war begins again? Will there be the same old deadlock, with nothing to replace the present agreement when it ends the first of next April, and a consequent shut-down of the coal industry indefinitely, while the miners and operators try to starve each other out and really do starve out the innocent public?

If there is any more of that kind of business in the coal industry, the demand for government control of the mines is likely to become overwhelming. The country is in no mood to repeat the experience of the present year.

The Pueblo Indians

San Francisco Chronicle

Local friends of the Indians of New Mexico and Arizona, commonly known under the generic name of "Pueblo Indians," are seeking to arouse sentiment for opposing the passage of the so-called "Bursum" bill, introduced by Senator Bursum of New Mexico, passed by the senate, and now before the house.

The record of the government and people of the United States in respect to dealings with the Indians of Western America is such that if any bill on the subject is introduced in congress the burden of proof is on its proponents to show that it does not propose a swindle. Prima facie, that is the nature of this or any other Indian bill until the presumption is renewed by evidence.

The protest does not make as clear as it should the nature of the injury which this bill would inflict. It is only stated that they are to lose their lands and their community existence. Unquestioned friends of the Indians have long urged the wisdom of making them independent citizens as the best and only way to create self-respect and accustom them to individually fend for themselves.

But there is a great difference in the character and capacity of the Indian races. It is not at all certain that a generalization based on acquaintance with some Indian tribes can properly be applied to all tribes.

In this case it seems evident that the assent of some Pueblos was obtained to the Bursum bill—something which a smart trader can usually accomplish—but that the mass of that people is sorely distressed, and makes a pathetic appeal to the people for assistance. The public needs to know what these Indians themselves think about it. Let the friends of the Indians give the facts.

Roosevelt Sequoia Park

Fresno Republican

Congressman Barbour will have the earnest support not only of his district, but of a great majority of the people of California in his efforts for the greater Roosevelt Sequoia park bill, this coming session. The interference with it has been of a local nature, but one unfortunately strategically placed.

The newer, all California view of the importance of our state scenic resources, should work to the benefit of this measure. The greater use and the greater development of our parks is a state and a national asset. Congressman Barbour has been fortunate and skillful in bringing to the support of his bill Eastern interest in this development. It is lamentable that it has been shortsighted California's hindrance that has prevented the enactment of the measure.

Tax Reduction Desired

Redlands Facts

The recent elections in western states emphasized one point—the people want a reduction in the overhead cost of government.

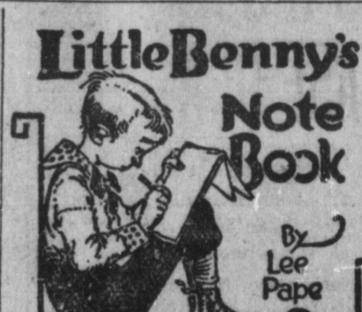

Laying aside all arguments and prejudices for or against any candidate, the people have shown unmistakably that they wish reduction in present tax burdens. It is useless to tell the people that they are to blame for present state expenses. They may have voted for the tax raising measures but in nine cases out of ten the average citizen does so not realizing the aggregate burden he is heaping upon himself.

Any man who reads the country papers of the states west of the Rocky Mountains could draw but one conclusion, namely, the people were demanding a new deal in public affairs. Incumbents in office who failed to recognize this condition have been defeated by candidates who saw the situation.

Candidates who have gone into office on a tax reduction and efficiency program in public affairs must make good with their pre-election promises if they wish to escape condemnation of the people. Holdover public officials who are in office must also recognize the present state of public opinion and trim their sails accordingly.

Every line of private business has reduced expenses. Every department of state, city and county governments must do the same. This does not mean curtailing efficiency. It simply means giving more service for the same money and where possible, better service for less money.

You Tell 'Em

Worth While Verse

THANKSGIVING TO GOD.

Robert Herrick (1591-1679)

Lord thou hast given me a cell wherein to dwell.
A little house whose humble roof is weather beaten;
Under the spars of which I lie both soft and dry;
Where thou, my chamber for toward, hast set a guard
Of harmless thoughts to watch and keep me, while I sleep.
Low is my porch as is my fate both void of state;
Yet is the threshold of my door worn by the poor
Who thither come and freely get good words or meat.
Like as my parlor, so my hall and kitchen's small;
A little buttery and therein a little bin,
Which keeps my little loaf of bread unchipped, unlead;
Some brittle sticks of thorn or briar make me a fire,
Close by whose living coal I sit, and glow like it.
Lord, I confess, too, when I dine the pulse is thine
And all those other bits that be there placed by thee;
The worts, the purslain and the mess of water-cress,
Which of thy kindness thou hast sent; and my content
Makes those, and my beloved beet, to be more sweet.
Tis thou that crownest my glittering heart with guiltless mirth
And gives me wassail, bowls to drink, spiced to the brink.
Lord, 'tis thy plenty-dropping hand that soils my land,
And givest me, for my bushel sown, twice ten for one;
Thou makest my teeming hen to lay her egg each day;
Besides my healthful ewe to bear me twins each year;
The while the conduit of my kin run cream for wine.
All these and better thou dost send me, to this end,
That I should render, for my part, a thankful heart,
Which, fired with incense, I resign as wholly thine,
But the acceptance, that must be my Christ, by thee.

Time to Smile

NOT MUCH GOOD

"This is the fourth morning that you've been late, Susan," said the mistress to her maid.
"Yes, ma'am," replied Susan. "I overslept myself, ma'am."
"Where is the clock I gave you?"
"In my room, ma'am."
"Don't you wind it up?"
"Oh, yes ma'am. I wind it up, ma'am."
"And do you set the alarm?"
"Every night, ma'am, I set the alarm."
"But don't you hear the alarm in the morning, Susan?"
"No, ma'am. That's the trouble, ma'am. You see, the thing goes off while I'm asleep, ma'am."—Answers, London.

DON'T BELIEVE IT

"How'd you ever get that paint on your dress, Mrs. Mingus?"
"I was leaning over Sandy's fence."
"But Sandy has a sign up, 'Wet Paint'."
"Yes, I saw that; but everybody knows what a liar he is."

Tom Sims Says

Exactly as was predicted next Thursday will be Thanksgiving Day. And a serious shortage of things to be thankful for is reported. This shortage, however, reminds us of the auto driver.

The auto driver was thankful because telephone poles only hit his car in self-defense.

So here is a list of things we are thankful for this Thanksgiving.

And, if you have a thanks shortage, you may be thankful with us.

We are thankful because women don't chew tobacco.

Because Sunday always comes on time.

Because America is not in China.

Because night only comes once a day.

Because we don't all play golf.

Because all girls are not blondes.

Because we can't play a saxophone.

Because all girls are not brunettes.

Because autos don't eat oats.

Because phonographs run down.

Because we don't like garlic.

Because trains never run sideways.

Because we don't like rhubarb pie.

Because bathtubs empty themselves.

Because we don't eat tapioca pudding.

Because Christmas is only a month away.

Because good water never makes you sick.

So, after all, you see how easy it is to be thankful.

If you are not thankful because something isn't.

And this reminds us of the man who needed shoes and was thankful because he was not a centipede.

And the bald man who was thankful he never needed a haircut.

Which reminds us of the man who was broke and was thankful because he had indigestion.

And the one with the wart on his finger thankful for the finger.

And the man thankful because he had a tooth to ache.

But above all comes the man who was thankful just because he had sense enough to be thankful.

And that's that, thank goodness.

IN THE LONG AGO

From the Register Files

November 27, 1908

The Garden Grove school attendance has increased from 219 in October to 227 now.

Supervisor G. W. Angle, a bean buyer, says there are only 10,000 sacks of Orange county's 200,000-sack crop of this year. The price of limas has advanced in the past few days from $3.75 per 100 pounds to $3.85. Blackeyes are bringing $2.90.

Frank De Long, of Tustin, died of injuries received November 12 in a fall while painting a house.

A trainload of Santa Ana merchants and their wives visited Corona, Riverside, San Bernardino and Highland yesterday. It was a day of great enjoyment.
